

Mission and Goals of The Jedlicka Institute

The Jedlicka Institute and Schools is a high-quality and accessible school, which uses comprehensive rehabilitation to prepare children and young people with physical disabilities for their integration into life.

We try to:

- educate the students in how to be as independent as possible;
- help in the development of the entire personality of students;
- use "special" approaches only as far as is necessary;
- support teamwork among our employees;
- develop and support services which are needed for life within the mainstream community;
- reinforce the sense of personal dignity of young people with disabilities;
- promote personal responsibility of students for the work they were entrusted with;
- offer support in the Vyšehrad Service Centre.

In the area of Jedlicka Institute you will also find additional organizations associated in an informal unit called the Vyšehrad Services Centre
